School Education Plan 2026-2027

Students will experience the Catholic faith as a living presence, woven into learning, relationships, and daily experiences across all aspects of school life.

Key Strategies:

- Catholic faith is meaningfully integrated into all aspects of school life. Teachers plan intentionally with Gospel values.
- Catholic Social Teaching is lived out through service and advocacy rooted in learning. Service, stewardship, and ethical reflection are part of daily school life.
- Faith-based conversations are embedded in classroom and school culture. Teachers pose Gospel-rooted questions so that students engage in reflective, respectful dialogue around values and beliefs.

Students feel known, challenged, and supported. Learning is joyful and meaningful, with varied approaches that honour different needs and spark curiosity.

Key Strategies:

- Learning is designed for student engagement: it is joyful, meaningful, and active.
- Teachers use UDL (Universal Design for Learning) to ensure all learners can access and express learning in multiple ways. Students see their identities reflected in classroom content and materials.
- Learning targets and success criteria are clear. Expectations are high and visible, but so is support. Students understand the "why" of learning and are guided through productive struggle.
- Student learning is shared through portfolios, assemblies, exhibitions, or classroom showcases. Growth is acknowledged frequently, formally and informally, by peers, teachers, and leaders.

Teachers co-create learning experiences where students set goals, reflect on progress, and persevere through challenge, with encouragement and timely support.

Key Strategies:

- Students are taught how to set goals, reflect on their progress, and understand how they learn best.
- Teachers normalize struggle and teach strategies for perseverance. Support is responsive and timely, adjusted to meet students where they are.
- Students regularly receive timely, specific feedback that helps them grow. They learn to give, receive, and act on feedback to improve their work and thinking.
- Students have voice and choice in how they learn and show what they know. Teachers offer options for tasks, grouping, tools, or modalities.

Students understand what they are learning and why, receive timely feedback, and reflect on their progress

Key Strategies:

- Teachers regularly use student interest, feedback, and self-assessments to guide lesson design. Students reflect on their growth and use feedback to take ownership of their learning.
- Teachers analyze and act on evidence collaboratively during team meetings, PLCs, and CRMs. Assessment results, observational data, and student reflections inform planning and support.
- Students receive timely, actionable feedback from teachers and peers. Students know how to use feedback to revise, improve, and grow. Teachers model how to give and receive constructive input.
- Schools use data and conversations to make decisions.
